

EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE

UNIT V

DR.KAVITHA RAJAYOGAN

A solid blue horizontal bar spanning the width of the slide at the bottom.

UNIT V

How to accurately perceive emotions, Use emotions to facilitate thinking, Understand emotional meanings, Manage emotions; Verbal Communication Skills: Focused listening, Asking questions, Communicating with flexibility and authenticity; Non-Verbal Communication Skills: Body language, The signals you send others, It's not what you say, it's how you say it; Social Management and Responsibility: Articulate your Emotions Using Language, Disagreeing Constructively

Perceive Emotions

Perceiving emotions is the ability to identify and understand emotions in oneself and others through facial expressions, tone of voice, body language, and behavior.

Ways to perceive emotions

- Self-Awareness
- Observe Facial Expressions
- Understand Body Language
- Listen to Tone of Voice
- Pay Attention to Words Used
- Develop Empathy
- Active Listening
- Recognize Context
- Avoid Assumptions
- Practice Mindfulness

Importance to perceive emotions

- Improves communication
- Builds strong relationships
- Reduces conflicts
- Enhances decision-making
- Increases workplace effectiveness

Challenges in Perceiving Emotions

- Personal bias (Unfair Judgements)
- Lack of attention (Failure of focusing)
- Cultural differences (Different culture show emotions in different ways)
- Misinterpretation of signals (incorrect assumptions)

How Emotions facilitate thinking

- Prioritizing Information
- Enhancing Decision-Making
- Improving Problem-Solving
- Boosting Creativity
- Guiding Attention and Focus
- Supporting Memory
- Facilitating Judgment

Techniques to Use Emotions Effectively

- Self-awareness: Recognize your emotional state
- Emotional regulation: Control extreme emotions
- Positive reframing: Turn negative feelings into constructive thinking
- Mindfulness: Stay aware of present emotions
- Pause before decisions: Avoid impulsive reactions

Understanding Emotional Meanings

- Understanding emotional meanings is the ability to interpret emotions correctly and recognize why they occur, including how emotions change over time and influence behavior.

Key Aspects of Understanding Emotions

- Identifying Causes of Emotions
- Interpreting Emotional Signals
- Recognizing Emotional Changes
- Understanding Complex Emotions
- Linking Emotions with Behavior

Techniques of Managing Emotions

- Self-Regulation
- Emotional Awareness
- Positive Thinking
- Stress Management Techniques
- Expressing Emotions Appropriately
- Developing Empathy
- Problem-Solving Approach

Verbal Communication

- Verbal communication involves using spoken or written words to convey messages, emphasizing clarity, tone, and active listening.

Focused Listening

Focused listening (active listening) is the ability to fully concentrate, understand, and respond thoughtfully to what the speaker is saying.

Key Features

- ✓ Giving full attention (no distractions)
- ✓ Avoiding interruptions
- ✓ Showing interest through verbal cues (“I see”, “Okay”)
- ✓ Providing feedback and clarification

Focused Listening

Techniques

- Maintain eye contact
- Nod or give short responses
- Paraphrase what the speaker said
- Ask follow-up questions

Importance

- Improves understanding
- Builds trust and respect
- Reduces misunderstandings

Asking Questions

Asking questions involves seeking information, clarification, or deeper understanding during communication.

Types of Questions

Open-ended questions: Encourage detailed responses

Example: “What do you think about this plan?”

Closed-ended questions: Require short answers

Example: “Did you complete the task?”

Probing questions: Explore deeper insights

Example: “Can you explain why this happened?”

Asking Questions

Techniques

- Ask clear and concise questions
- Avoid leading or biased questions
- Use questions to clarify doubts
- Encourage discussion

Asking Questions

Importance

- Enhances understanding
- Encourages participation
- Helps in problem-solving and decision-making

Communicating with Flexibility and Authenticity

Flexibility: Adapting communication style based on the situation and audience

Authenticity: Being genuine, honest, and transparent while communicating

Flexibility in Communication

- Adjust tone, language, and approach
- Consider cultural and individual differences
- Be open to feedback and change

Example: Using simple language for beginners and technical terms for experts

Authenticity in Communication

- Speak honestly and sincerely
- Align words with actions
- Express thoughts clearly without pretense
- Example: Admitting mistakes instead of hiding them

Non - Verbal Communication

- Non-verbal communication, often more trusted than words, includes body language, facial expressions, eye contact, and gestures that reinforce or contradict spoken words. Both are essential for effective professional and personal interactions

Body Language

- Body language includes physical movements and expressions used to communicate emotions and attitudes.

Components

- Facial expressions: Smile, frown, eye contact
- Gestures: Hand movements, nodding
- Posture: Sitting/standing position
- Eye contact: Shows confidence and attention

Body Language

Body Language

Body Language Tips For First Impression

DO's:

- Make eye contact
- Have an open gaze
- Smile naturally
- Laugh openly & appropriately
- Keep your neck open
- Keep arms by your sides
- Show open palms
- Use natural hand gestures
- Stand up straight with good posture
- Stand with your feet apart
- Keep feet pointed towards the person

DON'Ts:

- Don't blink too much
- Don't stare
- Don't wear sunglasses
- Don't drop your head
- Don't cover your neck
- Don't slump
- Don't cross your arms while talking
- Don't put hands in pocket
- Don't have a dominant posture
- Don't fidget, bite your nails or tap your foot
- Don't put your feet together

Body Language

Examples

- Crossed arms → Defensive or closed attitude
- Leaning forward → Interest and engagement
- Avoiding eye contact → Nervousness or lack of confidence

Importance

- Conveys emotions clearly
- Supports verbal messages
- Helps understand others better

The Signals You Send Others

Types of Signals

Appearance: Dressing style, grooming

Tone of voice: Pitch, speed, volume

Personal space (Proxemics)

Touch (Haptics)

Examples

Professional attire → Confidence and seriousness

Firm handshake → Confidence

Slouching → Lack of interest

The Signals You Send Others

Importance

- Creates first impressions
- Influences how others perceive you
- Affects relationships and communication outcomes

“It’s Not What You Say, It’s How You Say It”

The tone, expression, and delivery of a message often matter more than the actual words.

Key Elements

Tone of voice: Friendly, harsh, sarcastic

Pitch and pace: Fast or slow speech

Emphasis on words

Examples

Saying “Good job” with a smile → Encouragement

Saying “Good job” sarcastically → Criticism

“It’s Not What You Say, It’s How You Say It”

Importance

- Determines the true meaning of the message
- Prevents misunderstandings
- Enhances emotional connection

Social Management and Responsibility

Social management and responsibility in Emotional Intelligence refer to the ability to manage interactions effectively, communicate responsibly, and maintain healthy relationships in personal and professional environments.

Articulating Your Emotions Using Language

It is the ability to express your feelings clearly, accurately, and respectfully using appropriate words.

Key Aspects

1. Emotional Awareness
2. Use of Clear and Specific Language
3. Use of “I” Statements
4. Appropriate Tone and Timing
5. Honesty with Respect

Disagreeing Constructively

Constructive disagreement is the process of respectfully debating opposing ideas to reach better decisions, foster innovation, and strengthen relationships.

Disagreeing Constructively

Key Principles

1. Focus on Issue, Not Person
2. Use Respectful Language
3. Provide Reasoning
4. Active Listening
5. Stay Calm and Controlled

THANK YOU !!